Family Mass:

January 2008 will commence the second half of our Family Mass season. I would like to take this time to also extend my sincere gratitude to those Sir Knights and their families who have attended the first half of the 2007-2008 season. We always have a wonderful evening and I encourage all Sir Knights to attend this once-a-month honored tradition:

Regalia

Legend has it that Lucy (whose name means "light") was a Christian while Diocletian was persecuting and martyring Christians. She consecrated her virginity to God,--refused to marry a pagan, and had her dowry distributed to the poor. Her would-be husband denounced her as a Christian to the governor of Syracuse. Miraculously unable to move her or burn her, the guards stabbed her and killed her.

The oldest record of her story comes from 5th-century accounts of saints' lives, known as Acta. By the 6th century, her story was widespread. St. Aldhelm wrote an account of her life, and the Venerable Bede included her story in his Martyrology. In medieval accounts, St. Lucy's eyes are gouged out prior to her execution. In art, her eyes sometimes appear on a plate that she's holding.

Her feast day in the West is December 13th, by the unreformed Julian Calendar the longest night of the year; she is the patron saint of blindness. She is one of seven women, excluding the Blessed Virgin Mary, commemorated by name in the Canon of the Mass.

Ironically, St. Lucy's history is shrouded in darkness: all that is really known for certain is that she was a martyr in Syracuse in Diocletian's persecutions of A.D. 304. Her veneration spread to Rome, so that by the 6th Century the whole Church recognized her courage in defense of the faith.
